

Important Changes to RGI Eligibility Requirements

Issued: November, 2023

The Province of Ontario has recently changed the requirements of the Housing Services Act, 2011. As a result, the City of Toronto must implement an asset limit for rent geared-to-income (RGI) assistance eligibility.

Effective March 1, 2024, assessment of RGI eligibility will include any assets that your household has. That means that all members of your household who are 16 years of age or older, who are not receiving basic financial assistance through Ontario Works (OW) or the Ontario Disability Support Program (ODSP), must declare all assets you have that are not exempt (see list of exempt assets below). Your household must declare these assets annually, starting with your next annual RGI review on or after March 1, 2024.

If your household has assets that are not exempt, with a total value of more than $150,000, you will no longer be eligible to receive RGI assistance.

The Province of Ontario requires that your assets and their value be declared annually to assess your RGI eligibility.

Following are examples of the types of assets that must be declared annually, beginning at your household's next annual RGI review on or after March 1, 2024:

Property including but not limited to land, house, condominium, cottage, rental property, commercial property

Value of investments including but not limited to stocks, bonds, guaranteed investment certificates (GICs), index funds, and mutual funds, including foreign investments

More than one motor vehicle per household member of driving age including but not limited to cars, trucks, boats, motorcycles

Value of cash including funds in bank accounts

Cash surrender value of life insurance policies that exceed $100,000 for the entire household

Value of business assets over $20,000 for a household member or business

Value of funds held in a Tax-free Savings Account (TFSA) that exceeds the Canada Revenue Agency's (CRA) current individual eligibility requirements

Value of trust funds of any household members with a disability that are over $100,000 for that household member

Value of a household members' share of any assets, that are not exempt and are jointly held with other parties

EXEMPT ASSETS

The following assets are exempt from the total value of your household's assets. If you have any of these assets, you are not required to declare them at the annual RGI review. They will not be counted towards the $150,000 asset limit for RGI eligibility.

Personal Possessions

One personal motor vehicle per household member (not used primarily for the operation of a business)
